Consumer Protection Unit

The Northwestern District Attorney's Office has been home to a local consumer protection program since 1973. The Consumer Protection Unit's Director, Anita Wilson, and Case Coordinator Joanne O'Donoghue are trained specialists who work to resolve consumer complaints through an informal process and also provide resources and referrals to the public. They deliver education and outreach programs throughout both counties, giving consumers the information they need to make informed decisions and protect themselves against scams and fraud.

The Consumer Protection Unit works in cooperation with the MA Attorney General's Office. We are one of 20 programs throughout the state to receive a grant from the AGO to provide a local consumer program.

Consumer Protection staff assist consumers in the following areas:

- New and Used Automobile Purchases
- Home Improvement
- Shopping Rights
- Credit and Debt Issues
- Landlord/Tenant Rights
- Identity Theft
- Auto Repair
- Internet Sales
- Telemarketing Scams

Consumer Protection Director Anita Wilson and specialist Joanne O'Donoghue are ready to help with your consumer needs.

How we can help you

- Complaints between consumers & businesses
- Community consumer education programs
- Teaching how to avoid scams
- Resolving issues related to home improvement rights, car sales, car repairs, credit/debit issues, ID theft, landlord/tenant disputes, telemarketing issues.

We handle complaints through an informal process involving letters and telephone calls to reach a mutually agreeable settlement.

Consumer Protection Laws What are they?

The Consumer Protection Laws are designed to ensure fair trade competition and the free flow of truthful information in the marketplace. These laws are designed to prevent businesses that engage in unfair practices from gaining an advantage over competitors. Consumer Protection Laws are a form of government regulations which aim to protect the rights of the consumers.
