Protecting Your House of Worship with Compassion and Common Sense

A comprehensive training on best practices to promote safety and security for places of worship and faithbased organizations. For faith leaders, clergy, lay ministers, staff from churches, temples, synagogues, mosques, and meeting houses; law enforcement personnel; government leaders from Hampshire and Franklin counties and Athol.

> Tuesday, March 5, 2019 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Northampton Senior Center, 67 Conz Street, Northampton, MA

Cost: $55.00 per person - Registration Link: www.regonline.com/WorshipSecurity-NorthamptonMA-030519

Safety and security planning is increasingly important for places of worship and faith-based organizations. From acts of violence and vandalism to disruption of services, there are a wide range of security threats to houses of worship across the country. Law enforcement sources identify places of worship and faith communities as especially vulnerable targets, but there are ways to strengthen their protection. During this one-day training, instructors will review cases of violence in places of worship, talk through ways to prevent incidents and respond to an active shooter event and its aftermath, including effectively working with the media.

In addition, instructors will guide participants in how to undertake comprehensive safety and security risk assessments and develop policies to effectively address not only acts of targeted violence, but also other areas of vulnerability including sexual misconduct, financial exploitation and other crisis situations.

NOFIRES CONFERENCE: UNDERSTANDING SERIAL MURDER & SERIAL ARSON

Date:

11.07.2018 - 08:00AM to 11.08.2018 - 04:00PM

Location:

Hadley Farms Meeting House Through Case Analysis

Contact: NoFIRES Director Loren Davine at (413) 429-6363/loren@nofires.net

Sixth Annual NoFIRES Conference: Understanding Serial Murder & Serial Arson Through Case Analysis, Nov. 7-8

Dr. Jack Levin, a leading expert on violent crimes and author of "The Allure of Premeditated Murder: Why Some People Plan to Kill," is the keynote speaker for the 6th Annual NoFIRES Conference, Understanding Serial Murder & Serial Arson Through Case Analysis, Nov. 7-8 at Hadley Farms Meeting House.

A collaboration of fire, law enforcement, mental healthcare providers and social service agencies, the Northwestern Youth Fire Intervention Response, Education and Safety Partnership (NoFIRES), is committed to providing a consistent, coordinated and appropriate response to youth who set fires or engage in fire-related behavior. The components of this approach include intervention, education and prevention, and referrals for clinical treatment and counseling and /or to services agencies.

About 200 firefighters, police, probation, mental health providers, and school personnel attend the conference, which is intended as a professional development opportunity, every year. The conference is supported by The Northwestern District Attorney's Office, The State Fire Marshal, Massachusetts State Police Fire & Explosion Unit, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, and the Massachusetts Property Insurance Underwriting Association.

"NoFIRES is proud to offer high-quality trainings to professionals throughout New England. It's an opportunity to share best practices, discuss emerging trends, and network with others in this field," Loren Davine, NoFIRES Executive Director, said.

"This is always a terrific conference," Northwestern District Attorney David E. Sullivan said.

The first day of this year's conference will focus on a compelling serial murder case, and the second day will examine one of the largest serial arson cases in history. There will also be a live burn to demonstrate the fires and aftermath.

For the past 25 years, Levin has studied the mentality of violent criminals and written nearly 40 books on this topic. He has spoken about violence or hate to such groups as the White House Conference on Hate Crimes, the Department of Justice, the Department of Education, OSCE's Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (a membership of 59 countries) and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

TRAINING IN UNDERSTANDING AND RESPONDING TO COMMERCIAL SEXUAL EXPLOITATION OF CHILDREN

Date:

09.25.2018 - 09:00AM to 03:00PM

Location:

Greenfield Community College

About 80 police, DCF workers, school personnel, social workers and representatives of the Northwestern District Attorney's Office will be trained to understand and respond to commercial sexual exploitation of children at Greenfield Community College, Oct. 25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Trainers from My Life My Choice, an organization currently serving 110 exploited youths in Massachusetts, will explain ways of identifying and engaging with sexually exploited youth and the resources available for them.

At a similar training held in Holyoke last Thursday, Sept. 20, Children's Advocacy Center of Hampshire County Director Susan Loehn said there are 10 cases of children in the Northwestern District Attorney's jurisdiction who are being commercially sexually exploited.

Statewide, there were 275 referrals for services to My Life My Choice last year; 158 children received services. The average age of first exploitation was 14.

The trainings are sponsored by a federal grant and address provisions in the 2012 "Act Relative to the Commercial Exploitation of People," the first anti-human trafficking law in Massachusetts strengthening protections for victims of human trafficking, increasing punishment for offenders and establishing a human trafficking task force.

DA SULLIVAN, MAYOR, CITY COUNCILORS, STUDENTS AND OTHERS TO TAKE WHITE RIBBON PLEDGE TO END GENDER VIOLENCE

Date:

04.04.2018 - 12:30PM to 02:30PM

Location:

Northampton High School Auditorium, 380 Elm St.

"From this day forward I pledge to be part of the solution in ending gender based violence and to never commit, condone or remain silent about violence against women and girls." – Western Massachusetts White Ribbon Pledge

Northampton High School students will join District Attorney David Sullivan, Northampton Mayor David Narkewicz, members of the Northampton City Council, Debra Robbin, executive director of the statewide organization Jane Doe Inc and others in taking the White Ribbon Pledge, Wednesday, April 4, from 12:30-2 p.m. in the NHS Auditorium.

An international campaign to end violence against women and girls, the White Ribbon Campaign was established by a group of men in 1989 after a gunman opened fire and killed 14 female engineering students in Montreal, Canada.

For the past 10 years, the NWDA has worked with students, faculty and staff to advance the campaign through video and art contests, among other initiatives and encouraged students and others to take the White Ribbon Pledge throughout the Northwestern District. In recent years, the scope of the campaign has been broadened to address all forms of gender-based violence.

Jane Doe Inc., the statewide White ribbon organization, will be present to acknowledge the work being done in western Massachusetts and Northampton High School students will present an interactive exercise involving two scenarios illustrating unhealthy and healthy relationships.

"Our young people are the leading the way to a more just society, in which all people, regardless of gender are treated with respect," Sullivan said.

Please see the following agenda for more details. This event is not open to the general public.

For more information, please contact Mary Kociela, NWDA Director of Domestic Violence Projects at Mary.A.Kociela@state.ma.us

Northwestern District Attorney David E. Sullivan Presents:

Identifying, Investigating, and Prosecuting Domestic Violence Non-Fatal Strangulation Cases

Date: September 22, 2016 Time: 8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Location: Hadley Farms Meeting House, Rte. 9, Hadley, MA

District Attorney David E. Sullivan is pleased to welcome Casey Gwinn and Gael Strack, from the Strangulation Training Institute in San Diego, CA, who are nationally recognized experts in the identification, investigation, and documentation of strangulation in intimate partner violence cases.

Strangulation has been identified as one of the most lethal forms of domestic violence: unconsciousness may occur within seconds and death within minutes. When domestic violence perpetrators choke (strangle) their victims, not only is this a felonious assault, but it may be an attempted homicide. Strangulation is the ultimate form of power and control, where the batterer can demonstrate control over the victim's next breath with devastating psychological effects and a potentially fatal outcome.

You will learn: understanding the lethality of strangulation; signs and symptoms; anatomy and medical aspects; best practices; investigating, prosecuting and documenting a case; advocacy with survivors and available resources from the Strangulation Training Institute.

If you've seen any TV or movie involving crime or law enforcement, you've heard of the Miranda warning -- and can likely recite at least part of it.

It's the result of perhaps the best-known U.S. Supreme Court case, Miranda v. Arizona, when the Court ruled that detained criminal suspects must be advised of a number of important constitutional rights, for example the right to remain silent and the right to an attorney, prior to being questioned by the police.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Miranda v. Arizona. To commemorate this legal milestone, attorneys from the Northwestern

District Attorney's Office, Hampshire County Bar Association and Committee for Public Counsel Services along with student performers from Pioneer Valley Performing Arts Charter Public School will visit area schools to present Miranda: More than Words.

The presentations are timed to coincide with Law Day, established in 1958 by President Dwight Eisenhower and officially designated by Congress in 1961 to take place every year on May 1 to mark the nation's commitment to the Rule of Law. The American Bar Association established Miranda v. Arizona as this year's Law Day theme.

The attorneys will discuss the history and significance of the Miranda warning and what Miranda rights mean in the context of a school setting. If a student is called down to the school principal's office, for example, does the principal have to give the Miranda warning before questioning a student about a crime that occurred at the school?

The PVPA performers will enact scenarios involving juvenile Miranda situations after which presenters will analyze with students what went right or wrong.

"The Miranda case has become part of our national culture and it has benefited us all, because it has promoted professionalism on the part of the police and has increased confidence in the fairness of the criminal justice system," Northwestern District Attorney David E. Sullivan said.

"Suspects are no longer railroaded into confessions and prosecutions are no longer based upon statements made by people who have been deprived of sleep, food or other essentials. It has also provided people with knowledge of and the ability to assert their rights."

Presentations will be given at South Hadley High School, Gateway Regional High School, Smith Academy, Belchertown High School, Amherst Regional High School and Ware High School. For specific times, please see below.

Tuesday, May 3

- 1) 7:30-8:20 a.m. at South Hadley High School, 153 Newton St
- 2) 7:45-9:15 a.m. at Gateway Regional High School, 12 Littleville Road, Huntington
- 3) 1-2 p.m. at South Hadley High School, 153 Newton St.

From this day forward, I promise to be part of the solution in ending violence against women and all gender-based violence." -- White Ribbon Pledge

Men young and old across the state and country will wear white ribbons and take the White Ribbon Pledge on March 3 among other activities -- to show their support and commitment to ending violence against women and all gender-based violence.

Throughout the month of March and beyond, District Attorney David E. Sullivan's Task Force on Domestic & Sexual Violence will join Jane Doe Inc., and violence prevention organizations across the state to promote the White Ribbon Campaign and to increase the ranks of White Ribbon Ambassadors. Ambassadors agree to wear the ribbon on White Ribbon Day and recruit 5 to 10 male friends and colleagues to join them in taking the WRD pledge. For more information about this program and the annual White Ribbon event at the Statehouse on March 3, visit http://www.janedoe.org/

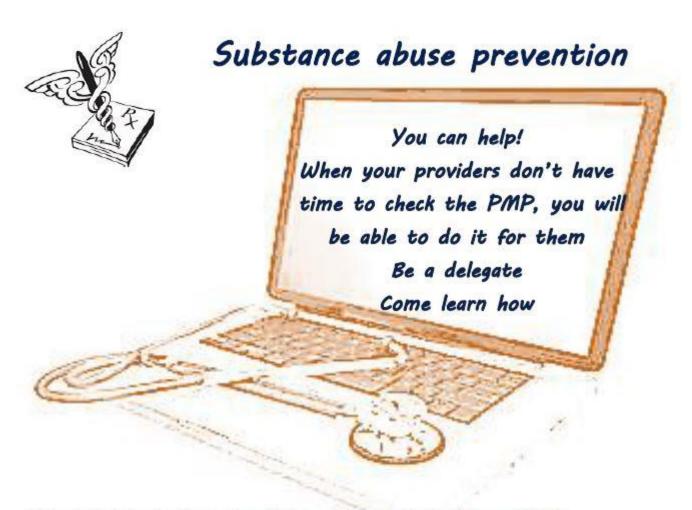

Student members of the Belchertown High School SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) group will be selling white ribbons during all four lunchtimes on March 3 to benefit Safe Passage of Northampton, which serves survivors of domestic violence, their children, friends, and families. For more information about this effort, contact Ginny Bilz at vbilz@belchertown.org

Other schools are organizing student assemblies, workshops and information tables. (We will send more details when available.)

DA Sullivan will lead the pledge with Greenfield Community College President Robert Pura and others at Community College at The Power of Women event sponsored by the New England Learning Center for Women in Transition (NELCWIT) Thursday, April 7 from 5-9 p.m. in the Cohn Family Dining Commons.

"The White Ribbon Campaign is a powerful testimony to the ways in which, working together, we can make strides toward ending violence," Sullivan said.

The White Ribbon Campaign is an international event that was established in 1989, after a gunman opened fire and killed 14 female engineering students in Montreal, Canada. Men in that community organized the first WRC, wearing white ribbons "as a symbol of men's opposition to men's violence against women" and to show their support for women and survivors.

What is SCOPE of Pain?

SCOPE of Pain is designed to help you safely and effectively manage patients with pain, when appropriate, with opioid analgesics. The meeting includes essential clinical content on opioid prescribing as well as state-specific information.

SCOPE of Pain Massachusetts is sponsored by Boston University School of Medicine with local collaboration from the Northwestern District Attorney. National collaborators include the Council of Medical Specialty Societies and the Federation of State Medical Boards.

Who is this training for?

Physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, registered nurses, nurses, dentists, pharmacists and allied healthcare professionals. This session is open to dentists and their staff.

Why offer this training?

The FDA has mandated manufacturers of extended release/longacting (ER/LA) opioid analgesics, as part of a comprehensive Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategy (REMS), to make available comprehensive prescriber education in the safe use of these medications. This training is based on the FDA curriculum known as the Blueprint for Prescriber Education for Extended Release and Long-Acting Opioid (ER/LA) analgesics. Our curriculum covers all aspects of this blueprint and more to provide a comprehensive educational program.

Educational Objectives

At the completion of this education activity, you should be able to:

- Employ appropriate assessment, monitoring and documentation strategies to meet best practice standards and medico-legal requirements when treating patients with chronic opioid therapy (COT)
- Apply a practical framework for decision-making on the initiation, dosage modification, and discontinuation of opioid analgesics in the treatment of chronic pain
- Employ consistent practice tools to adequately assess risk in patients being considered for COT and to effectively manage COT
- Confidently counsel patients and caregivers about the safe use of opioid medications and communicate about the need for close monitoring
- Effectively communicate with patients whom you suspect may be misusing opioid analgesics
- Demonstrate increased understanding of general and product-specific information of ER/LA opioid analgesics

Accreditation

Daniel P. Alford, MD, MPH, FACP, FASAM, Boston University School of Medicine, Course Director Physicians

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of Boston University School of Medicine and with local partners.

The John Orr Serial Arson Murder Case

John Leonard Orr, a former Glendale, California arson investigator, is one of the most notorious American serial fire setters in modern history. He was convicted in 1998 of setting a series of fires in 1984 that killed four people, including a 2-year-old boy. Michael J. Cabral, a prosecutor for over 25 years, was the lead prosecutor in the case. His exhaustive and tenacious work is chronicled in Joseph Wambaugh's book, "Fire Lover."

Cabral was a Deputy DA for Los Angeles County for 20 years and started the Arson Prosecutions Unit. He spent many years prosecuting high level arson cases and it was during this time that he led the final Orr prosecution. From 2006 to 2010 Cabral was Chief DDA in Riverside County in the Family Protection Division, leading the prosecution of the crimes of Child Abuse. Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault. His other duties were as a prosecutor in high profile public integrity cases. In 2010 he moved to northern California and joined the Yolo County District Attorney's Office as Assistant Chief Deputy District Attorney.

He will also be presenting on a recent double murder case involving a 15-year -old with a history of firesetting.

Jury-Centered Fire Investigation

Drawing on his 30 years of experience, Attorney Brett Vottero shares his insights into the jury system. This session will assist fire investigators in preparing their cases for court from the moment they respond to every fire scene. The role of the interview, subject deception and the application of interrogation techniques in an investigation with MSP Lt. Paul Zipper

Designed for a multidisciplinary audience interested in discussing interview strategies, observing deception in a practical setting and witnessing their application in an interrogation.

You will be provided case information and required to work through cases with MSP Lt. Paul Zipper, Ph.D. to develop an interview strategy and see its practical application. Zipper has been with the Massachusetts State Police for 28 years and is a contributing author of "Firesetting in Children and Youth: A Multidisciplinary Handbook."

Full Court Press: A prosecutor's perspective

Fires often present unique legal issues that must be addressed by fire investigators and arson prosecutors. ADA Matthew Thomas will discuss updates on the law, touching upon:

- Search and seizure at fire scenes
- Spoliation of evidence issues
- · Uncharged misconduct evidence
- Arson Immunity Statute (c.148§32)

Juvenile FireSetting Intervention

NoFIRES is an education and intervention program for juvenile firesetters. A small roundtable discussion will be held to share information on how to develop a fire education program for juveniles in your area.
